Don Conway Becomes Vice-President of Professional Geologists Organization

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich.:

Donald G. Conway, C.P.G. of Gosling Czubak Engineering Sciences, Inc., recently became the Vice-President of the American Institute of Professional Geologists - Michigan Chapter. He is slated to become President in 2011.

AIPG is a non-profit organization that certifies the competence and ethical conduct of geological scientists. It establishes qualifications for professional geologists. Through a peer review process, AIPG investigates geologists who voluntarily apply for self-regulation through the Institute. The peer review screening evaluates their education, experience, technical competence, and ethical conduct.

Don is a Senior Project Manager at Gosling Czubak and supervises groundwater investigation and contamination remediation projects for clients.

Gosling Czubak Engineering Sciences, Inc. is a professional consulting firm providing environmental, landscape architecture, engineering, surveying, and geotechnical services to a large variety of clients. Currently employing a staff of more than 50, the firm has served public and private clients throughout Michigan since 1957.
